MARKED is Onalaja's SS26 collection and a powerful meditation on identity, heritage, and divine purpose. Drawing from African traditions of body marking and scarification, the collection reimagines the body as a sacred canvas, translating ritual, lineage, and protection into demi couture garments rich in embroidery, beadwork, and sculptural detail. Bold 1970s inspired silhouettes meet ancestral textures, with teals, deep ambers, molten golds, and ceremonial materials creating pieces that feel both futuristic and timeless. More than fashion, MARKED is a declaration of being chosen, celebrating scars as symbols of strength, beauty, and resilience.
