

RIXO

RIXO PRESENTS ITS DEBUT BRIDAL COLLECTION AS A PART OF LFW

23 February 2021

Today, British fashion brand RIXO presents its debut Bridal collection, designed by co-founders Henrietta Rix and Orlagh McCloskey, as a part of London Fashion Week.

First introduced last week, the limited edition, vintage inspired 26-piece collection was designed with individualism at its core. From traditional bridal gowns to contemporary tailoring with feathered trims, the instantly shoppable, seasonless collection embodies the many modern brides of today.

Today, the collection has been reimagined and restyled upon five RIXO icons, Amber Jean, Romi Calypso, Esther Toogood, Gillian Fraser and Alisha Safo, all captured against the beautiful backdrop of Home House in London.

Created with fabric and fit as a priority, RIXO's bridal collection features a range of traditional lace inserts, beautiful jacquards and sequins delicately positioned upon considered necklines and sleeve lengths. Born from a bespoke minimal-crease, 100% silk material, each piece is made to stand the test of time.

All accessories are vintage and will be available to buy alongside the collection.

The collection is available to shop online now. Prices range from £295 to £1450. Please contact the brands bridal specialist for a 1-1 virtual appointment bridal@rixo.co.uk.

For the live presentation, click here
For the saved presentation, click here
For all imagery, click here

Credits: Flowers: @theblumestudio & Hair & Make up: @secretspauk & Venue: @homehouselondon

[ENDS]